

Goldwater Party To Help Erase Debts Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican colleagues are arranging a dinner salute to Sen. Barry Goldwater which they hope will produce $500,000 to help bail out financially strapped party committees.

No mere $100-a-plate affair, the Goldwater testimonial is expected to attract sizable subscriptions from party financial angels who applaud the Arizona senator's conservative views.

If it tends to implant the Goldwater image more firmly on the party, GOP liberals will not like that. But some of them conceded privately there isn't much they can do about it.

Presumably the dinner, presently scheduled for Feb. 28, will supplant the customary June congressional fund-raising rally at which former President Dwight Eisenhower has been the principal attraction in recent years.

Goldwater has retired from the post he has held for four years as chairman of the Republican National Campaign Committee. In agreeing to permit himself to be lauded publicly for the contributions he has made toward getting Republican senators elected, Goldwater laid down some limits.

The first of these is that there mustn't be anything said about him as a potential candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination. It will be all right, however, to remind the faithful that there is in the offing his likely candidacy for re-election in Arizona next year.

Primarily the dinner is planned for members of the Senate and House. But Goldwater has stipulated that Republican governors also must be invited, but not necessarily urged, to attend.

Whether New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would feel called upon to join in the festivities remained problematical. Rockefeller, regarded as a leading possibility for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, has a legislature on his hands.

Roosevelt Yacht To Be Restored

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A yacht used by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt will be restored as an historical monument.

A commercial firm, Hydro-Capitol Co. of Newport Beach, Calif., said Monday the 165-foot Potomac will be restored as nearly as possible to its World War II condition. It then will be exhibited along the West Coast, then taken to the Atlantic Coast for the New York World's Fair next year.

The craft in recent years was used as a passenger boat in the West Indies.

Squabbles Get Legislature Off To Rocky Start

LANSING (AP)—Senate Democrats grumbled about a proposed early adjournment and the top tax expert of the House was rebelling against being booted from his committee chairmanship as the 1963 Legislature got busy today with its regular session.

There were no immediate signs of conciliation of the dispute which flared in the House over the ouster of Rep. Rollo Conlin, R-Tipton, as chairman of the General Taxation Committee—a job he had held for eight years.

No sooner had House Speaker Allison Green announced his appointments to 47 standing committees than an embittered Conlin declared he was unwilling to serve on the important Ways and Means Committee.

Green indicated earlier he would dump Conlin as taxation chairman to provide the committee with a more "open mind" on the question of tax reform, and he carried out this move by installing Conlin on Ways and Means, whose 13 members serve on no other committees.

The disagreement over Conlin's appointment flared after the House accepted a resolution to boost the taxation committee from 11 to 13 members and rejected another proposal to create a standing committee on economic development.

These issues, plus the bitter words of Senate Democrats over the April 26 adjournment proposed by Republicans and backed by Gov. George Romney, got the lawmakers body off to a somewhat rocky start.

Britons Will Seek Island Home On Australian Reef

LONDON (AP)—Jeffrey Forre, 21, and his wife, Christine, 19, are on their way to Australia's Great Barrier Reef to look for an island home away from the rush of city life and the threat of nuclear fallout.

Nineteen others are supposed to join them after they've chosen an island. The group community plans to establish a life where there will be no money and all work will be shared.

The 21 were picked from 5,000 applicants from all over the world, Forre said.

Collision Kills 2 Near Kent City

KENT CITY (AP) — Two men were killed in a head-on collision involving three cars on M-37 just southeast of this Kent County community Monday. Two other men were injured.

Dead were The Rev. Robert B. Ralph, 33, of Lyons, and Leonard G. Cassidy, 41, of Casnovia. Injured were Robert Wellman of Kent City and Frederick Rutherford of Grand Rapids.

Kent County sheriff's officers said Rev. Ralph's car was passing Rutherford's when it ran head-on into Wellman's car. The collision carried the two vehicles into Rutherford's vehicle. Cassidy was riding with Wellman.

Rep. James Folks, R-Horton, to replace the ousted Conlin, there were no important changes in the committee chairmanships and assignments meted out by Green.

Conlin announced on the floor that he wished to resign from Ways and Means—the appropriation committee of the House—and indicated he would not serve if the request was ignored.

Conlin said he would be willing to serve on a regulatory committee in place of Ways and Means. He stressed that his request to resign did not mean he would become a "lone wolf."

Committee appointments resulted in heavy domination by Republicans, who were given 46 of the 47 chairmanships and seniority on virtually all.

Rep. Robert Mahoney, D-Detroit, named to head the Aid to the Handicapped Committee, was the only Democrat to win a committee chairmanship—but even that was one more than in 1962.

Paper Mill Town Beats The Cold

INTERNATIONAL FALLS Minn. (AP)—A logger says the trees around International Falls are frozen so hard the woodpeckers can't tell them from iron pipes driven into the ground for markers.

That's typical of the stories spawned in this northern Minnesota city that as often as not finds itself at the bottom of the U.S. temperature chart.

The mercury dipped to 14 below zero Jan. 10, and it has taken a nosedive every day since. Not just a little below zero, either. Most days recently it's been 30 below or more. It was -38 Monday.

Surprisingly, such weather does little to slow down the normal activity of the town of 6,700, most of it centering around the cutting of pulpwood that is turned into paper by a big mill here.

Natives say it usually is a quiet cold, with little wind to bite into exposed skin.

Even starting cars isn't much of a problem. Most residents use electrical heaters which keep the chill off the engine. One car dealer started residents by installing a device which periodically starts the car's motor. More than one person has done a double take when an unoccupied vehicle zooms to life.

Stabbing Is Fatal To Airman's Wife At Oscoda Base

OSCODA (AP) — The wife of a Wurtsmith Air Force Base man was stabbed to death at her home at the base Monday night. Her husband also suffered stab wounds.

Mrs. Janet Abers, wife of S-Sgt. Donald M. Abers, was dead on arrival at the base hospital. Abers was reported in serious condition. Military and civilian authorities were making a joint investigation.

A Wurtsmith spokesman said a neighbor of the Abers couple had reported sounds of what seemed a quarrel.

Gen. Walker Free Of Riot Charges At Mississippi U.

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—The federal government has dropped charges against former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker and six others arrested after the University of Mississippi desegregation riots last fall.

U.S. Atty. H. H. Ray asked for the dismissal Monday several hours after a federal grand jury quit without indicting Walker.

James H. Meredith—the Negro whose arrival at the University Sept. 30 ignited the riot—takes his final semester test today.

The 29-year-old former Air Force sergeant has threatened to withdraw from the university after this semester unless campus conditions change. He has been the target of frequent harassment.

Four More Indicted
The charges against Walker were dismissed by U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton "without prejudice." This means the federal government may reconsider them before the statute of limitations expires in five years.

The white grand jury panel indicted four persons last week in connection with the riots which killed two and injured scores.

They were Melvin Bruce of Decatur, Ga., Philip Lloyd Miles and Kline Lamar May, both of Prichard, Ala., and Richard Hays Hinton of Lucedale, Miss.

They were charged with interfering with federal marshals in the performance of duties and impeding them in the execution of court orders directing Meredith's enrollment.

Besides Walker, charges were dropped against Frank Lamar Ott and Joseph Cutler, both of Kentwood, La., Edward Louis Shade of Atlatum, Miss., Robert Blackard of Memphis, Tenn., William Gilbert Marr of Olive Branch, Miss., and Charles Clark, Prentiss, Miss.

Gave Up Commission
Walker, who commanded federal troops at Little Rock, Ark., during the 1957 desegregation crisis, was arrested in Oxford the day after the riot.

He was charged with insurrection, seditious conspiracy, conspiracy to impede and injure officers of the United States and assaulting, resisting and impeding officers. He denied the charges.

The 53-year-old Texan, who resigned his commission in a dispute over troop indoctrination policies, said at Dallas, Tex., he was glad to be vindicated.

"My hopes return to those of Cubans and missions of others who want to return to their home after having escaped from the jails and boundaries of a police state," Walker said.

Although U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—in a copyright interview with U.S. News and World Report—said the chances were that Meredith would quit school, there is strong sentiment now on campus that the Negro will be back next semester.

Warren Candidate Faces Charge Of Forging 14 Names

WARREN (AP) — Two forged warrants against a disqualified candidate for the Warren City Council and will be recommended by Macomb County Prosecutor George Parris.

State police handwriting analysis confirmed that Frank Simanick, 51, of Warren forged 14 names on his nominating petitions, including those of two dead men, Parris said Monday.

Warren City Clerk James D. Gray originally made the forgery charge. Gray disqualified Simanick, a jobless factory worker. Simanick will be arraigned Wednesday.

Cold Air Moves Into Southland

By The Associated Press

A fresh snowstorm swept across areas from the Rockies eastward into the Midwest today and a new surge of cold air spread into the East and deep into the Southland.

Subzero temperatures clung to much of the northern Midwest, with no general, immediate relief indicated in the prolonged cold wave. The new mass of arctic air which invaded the Northeast dropped temperatures below zero in northern Maine and western New York State.

Freezing weather chilled areas in northern Florida and much of the Southeast. Miami shivered as the mercury dropped into the 40s. There were sharp drops in temperatures throughout the East.

Blizzard warnings were posted for west and central South Dakota after snow, powered by winds of 40 m.p.h. swept into North Dakota and the lowlands of Montana. Snow fell across sections from the northern Plains, the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region into the Ohio Valley. The amounts ranged from one to three inches.

Clemson College To Enroll Negro

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Clemson College trustees will meet here this week to consider the admission of the school's first Negro student.

Gov. Donald S. Russell had no comment after Chief Judge Simon Sobeloff of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals and Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U.S. Supreme Court refused to delay an order that Harvey Gantt, 20, of Charleston be enrolled at Clemson.

Russell said he might make a statement after conferring with state officials. The trustees set their meeting for Wednesday or Thursday. Other state officials refused comment.

Gantt, who will probably be enrolled next Monday as a transfer from Iowa State University, will be the first Negro to attend a previously all-white school in South Carolina on any level.

"I hope now that all the legal drawbacks are behind me," Gantt said at his home Monday night. He said he "generally felt real good" about the latest court action.

Adenauer Agrees With DeGaulle On Cooperation Pact

PARIS (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle faced Atlantic and European issues dividing them today after agreeing on a treaty of close diplomatic cooperation between their countries—traditional enemies.

Adenauer is under heavy pressure from his public to play a mediating role in the crisis which erupted last week when De Gaulle rejected the American plan for a NATO nuclear force and slammed the door on British membership in the European Common Market.

West Germany favors British membership in the Common Market and has endorsed the American project for a multinational nuclear NATO force. Adenauer was expected to press De Gaulle to modify his position at a meeting today.

German sources said Adenauer does not consider the question of a NATO nuclear force as urgent as the Common Market issue. The sources said it will be several years before a NATO force can be set up and perhaps some satisfactory arrangement can be worked out by then.

British bitterness over De Gaulle's position welled up Monday night in a sharp speech by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Father Injured; Paralyzed Youth Alone For 2 Days

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A teen-age boy paralyzed from the waist down lay helpless in his home for two days while his father, critically injured in a traffic accident, was unconscious in a hospital.

When a neighbor heard of Bill Weber Sr.'s auto collision and asked police to check the son's condition.

They found Bill Jr., 18, cold, hungry and bewildered. He became a paraplegic two years ago when injured in a water skiing accident. Neighbors and police pitched in to help him. An officer's wife cooked him dinner. Others brought clothes. Some offered to stay with him until his father recovers. The boy's mother died six years ago.

"It was almost worth all this to find out I have so many friends," he said Monday.

lan, warning the French president against trying to dictate the future of free Europe. Macmillan told a political rally in Liverpool that no country "in these days can stand entirely on its own. Alliances are essential to security."

De Gaulle and Adenauer agreed Monday on a treaty of close cooperation in diplomacy, defense and culture, open to other states of Europe, which they hope will repair their differences in foreign policy.

West Germany backed away from an exclusive inner alliance with France inside the European and Atlantic communities. This apparently doomed the French concept of a continental "third force" dominated by France and West Germany.

Arkansas Solon's Wife Is Robbed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A youth slipped into the Capitol Hill home of presidential assistant Brooks Hays and robbed Mrs. Hays by threatening her with a scissors, police reported.

Mrs. Hays, 65, told police she was sewing in a second-floor bedroom Monday afternoon when she looked up and saw a Negro standing in the doorway.

When she asked him what he was doing, he replied, "The lady downstairs told me to come up." "Well let's go down and see," she told him. She said she led the youth down the stairs and was approaching the front door when he jerked a pair of scissors from her hand.

Mrs. Hays said the intruder told her, "Let's go back upstairs, and you'd better give me some money or I'll kill you."

The youth took $10 or $12 in some church envelopes lying on her dresser, she said, then ran from the house.

Her husband was returning to Washington after making a speech at Blacksburg, Va.

Hays, a Democrat, is a former member of the House from Arkansas.

Five Convicted In Dope Traffic Ring At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A jury Monday night convicted five men, including the brother of a recently convicted robbery terror gang leader, on charges of illegal trafficking in narcotics.

Those convicted were John C. Pellegrini, 37, of Plymouth, Ind.; Louis Guido, 38, James T. McGarry, 46, and Alex Miele, 42, all of Chicago, and Al Sakal, 30, who is serving a jail term at Lincoln, Neb.

Guido is the brother of Nick Guido, convicted leader of a robbery gang that terrorized and tortured Chicago area victims. Nick Guido was sentenced to 40 years in the state penitentiary earlier this month.

The five men were accused of being members of a narcotics gang of 19 persons that operated in Chicago.

Families Leave Havana To Join Freed Prisoners

HAVANA (AP) — Between 900 and 1,000 relatives of Cuban invasion prisoners and up to 205 Americans are expected to leave Cuba for the United States this week.

The Swiss Embassy announced Monday night that the way had been cleared for the relatives of the former prisoners to sail aboard the American freighter Shirley Lykes, probably within a week.

An embassy spokesman said up to 205 American citizens living in Cuba also are scheduled to leave on two plane flights, one each on Wednesday and Friday. They are U.S. citizens being repatriated and have no connection with the prisoners' relatives.

"The Cuban and American Red Cross have put in motion all necessary preparations," a spokesman for the Swiss Embassy said.

"The Cuban authorities have assured they will make available exit permits for between 900 and 1,000 Cuban citizens directly related to the former Playa Giron (Bay of Pigs) invasion prisoners."

A list of 1,080 relatives was given to the Cuban government by the now defunct prisoners' mothers committee, a committee member said.

Appeals to leave were still pouring in from Cubans claiming to be related to the prisoners.

In December at least 2,000 applications were turned down when the American freighter African Pilot took out a load of 900 prisoners' relatives. The ship had delivered a major installment on the prisoners' ransom.

Castro described the relatives he permitted to leave then as a bonus for the ransom of $3 million in cash and $53 million in foodstuffs and medicines pledged for the freedom of the 1,113 invasion prisoners. The prisoners were flown to Florida at Christmas time.

The Shirley Lykes docked in Havana Friday with another large installment of ransom foodstuffs and medicines. Rain has slowed the unloading of its 7,000-ton cargo.

Peace In Congo Hailed By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has hailed the end of the Katanga secession and declared that the Congolese now have an opportunity "to rally behind their national and provincial leadership."

He said the peaceful entry of U.N. forces into the Katanga stronghold of Kolwezi had confirmed the downfall of the separatist regime of Moise Tshombe.

This, he said in a statement Monday, "is warmly welcomed by the United States and all who are concerned with the future of the Congo and the whole of Africa."

He said the Eisenhower administration "determined wisely" that the U.S. goal of seeking conditions allowing the Congolese to work out their own future could best be pursued through the United Nations.

Pet Dog Leads Way To Home Of Boy Burglars, 16

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Two Richmond teen-agers aren't convinced the dog is man's best friend.

Early Monday a bus driver spotted two boys inside an automatic laundry, breaking open coin boxes on the machines.

The boys saw the driver and ran out the back door. The driver, who wasn't identified, slammed the door in time to trap their dog, then called police.

Patrolmen E. L. Robinson and R. S. Price opened the door and released the dog—which promptly led them to a house a block away.

Inside, the police found two 16-year-old boys, one with coins inside one shoe. The bus driver said they were the lads he'd seen inside the laundry.

Delta County people substantially increased their contributions to the 1963 March of Dimes through the telethon program conducted by WLUC-TV Channel 6 Marquette over the weekend, it was announced today by Myron T. Austad, chairman of the Delta Chapter of the National Foundation.

The telethon pledges from Delta County this year totaled $2,100 compared to $1,480 a year ago, Austad reported.

For the 30-county area covered in the telethon the contributions to the March of Dimes totaled about $21,000 for the weekend. The area includes all of the Upper Peninsula and 15 counties in northern Lower Peninsula.

Kiwanians Hear Tambourine Band And Talk On S. A.

Events in the growth of the Salvation Army from the time it was organized in 1865 were recounted for members of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday by Major Orville Butts, local S. A. unit commander. An added feature was a number by a Salvation Army timbrel group, five young women with tambourines which they played to the accompaniment of recorded brass band music.

The program was introduced by William J. Duchaine. Three new members of the club were received in an induction ceremony. Ralph Scheffler, new president, read a letter of thanks to the club for their recent contribution of $500 to the building fund for a school for retarded children.

Romney Approves April 26 Windup For Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney says he expects to have his budget message ready for the Legislature before the end of the month and may have other messages to submit later on.

At a news conference Monday, Romney indicated he is satisfied with a proposed April 26 deadline for the legislature to wind up its work in what he hopes will be an action-packed session.

The adjournment schedule, outlined in a resolution sponsored by Sen. John Fitzgerald, R - Grand Ledge, was tailored to meet Romney's suggestion in his "state-of-the-state" message that lawmakers hold a short regular session now, followed by a special session this Fall.

Tax Reform On Tap

The special session, he said, should be devoted to such controversial subjects as tax reform.

Romney was asked what he thought of the formation of an organization called the Conservative Federation of Michigan, which met in Lansing Saturday. The Federation has the avowed purpose of backing conservative candidates for office. Its leaders claim 500 members now and predict that the membership roll will number 20,000 by the end of the year.

The governor, saying he knows very little about the new political organization, said he has had great difficulty in determining what a conservative really is.

Romney remarked that he cannot agree with the thinking of some so-called conservatives, but that he had met others where the definition really was meaningless.

In an apparent reference to his previous clash with elements of the John Birch Society, Romney said:

"I object to those who use methods or support programs which would undermine the strength of the country."

Committees Continued

Founders of the Conservative Federation said they have no direct connection with the Birch Society, but that they don't know whether any Birchites have joined the new organization as individuals.

Romney also announced that of 21 special governor's committees in operation when he assumed office, eight will be continued and four dissolved while he studies the future of nine others.

The committees mostly serve in an advisory capacity. Members are not salaried but in most cases receive necessary expenses. A few have paid secretaries or executive secretaries.

The eight to be continued, with probable changes or additions to personnel, are the:

Advisory Committee on Annexation Legislation, Anti-Litter Study Committee, Michigan Cultural Commission, Fair Campaign Practices Commission, State Fair Grounds Development Commission, Advisory Committee on Reorganization of State Government, Commission to Observe the Sesquicentennial of the War of 1812 and the Michigan Youth Commission.

Ford River Scout Troop Is Planned

Scoutmaster of the new troop will be John T. Loeffler and the committeemen are Richard Shilene, Thomas Brayak and Lionel Peltier.

The forming of a Boy Scout troop will provide a complete Scouting program at Ford River. Cubmaster Walter Mokszyce reported at last night's meeting on the number of Cub Scouts who will be graduating into the Scout troop.

Phil Miron is advisor of the Explorer Post.

Parents who are interested in having their son in the Scout program are to contact Loeffler or Mokszyce.

MARQUETTE—Smile, you may be on Candid Camera.

In the Air Force "you" could be anything from a sentry dog being trained in security tactics to a bomber being refueled in mid-air.

And at K. I. Sawyer AFB the men behind the camera on the 56th Air Base Squadron's base photo lab are just as busy and equally proficient as the widely publicized Sunday night television show.

Although photography in the Air Force is listed as one of the "softcare" fields, it is one of the most necessary and highly recognized jobs in today's modern service.

The 56th Air Base Squadron's photo lab is unique in that it supports not only the two wings on base, but also the Air Force stations at Antigo, Wis., and Calumet.

The Sawyer photo lab at present averages a little over 23,000 black and white prints a month, which would compare well with any large photo reproduction studio in our major cities.

In addition to the many normal requirements, it is necessary to have a photographer on duty 24 hours a day in case of any accident or emergency where photographs are required.

Many people feel that photography is "quite a life," and that all a photographer does is take pictures of interesting happenings and pretty girls.

However, for every photograph that is taken, approximately three man hours are required to process, print and finish the picture. Last year the photo lab at Sawyer turned out more than 253,000 prints.

Along with the usual photographic requirements, such as passports, citizenship pictures and special assignments, the photo lab also has the capability of processing photostats, 35 mm radar film and the large K-17 aerial film.

The photo lab is presently headed by Sgt. Earl Wilson. He says that he feels almost as much a permanent fixture at K. I. Sawyer as the photo lab itself, for he has seen and photographed almost all the building construction that has taken place on the base.

Fifty Kept Happy On Biscuits At Home For Aged

WESTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Ten years ago, Mike McGarvey dedicated his life to bringing a little more sunshine into the twilight years of the aged.

Today he has 50 guests at his retirement residence here known as Bide-A-Wee Home.

Should a guest complain, McGarvey is by his side in a matter of minutes, patting his head with one hand and offering a biscuit in the other.

More often than not, the problem will be solved and the guest will bark with satisfaction.

That's right, bark.

All the guests are dogs.

McGarvey is in charge of the kennel which began the "old-age pension plan for dogs" a decade ago. Three years ago, there were but 10 aged guests in the residence along with about 100 other dogs taken there to be placed for adoption.

"The dogs we take in under the old-age pension plan are of an age equivalent to an aged human being," McGarvey said. "Many of them have heart trouble, need special diets and require constant care and supervision."

As in the case of humans, McGarvey said, dogs are living longer. Their diets have been improved and their ailments are being cured.

Bide-A-Wee is a nonprofit organization subsisting on fees paid for adopted animals, public donations and funds from a large pet cemetery in Wantagh, N.Y. The organization has a home in Manhattan, one in Wantagh and one in Westhampton.

Only the Westhampton home caters to aged dogs.

Why would people put a dog in such a home?

"Sometimes the dog came to the family when the children were growing up. Then the kids go off to school and the dog is no longer thought about," McGarvey said.

"So, rather than neglect the dog, the owners bring him here and pay $300 a year to enter him in the pension plan which covers all care and food."

"Sometimes, people with dogs move where they don't allow dogs and the dog is brought here to live out his life."

Are the home's residents happy?

"Well, they don't talk, but it's not too hard to tell a dog is happy when he wags his tail and licks at your hand when you pet him and feed him. I think they are happy," McGarvey said.

Voice Of Gospel To Reach Africa

By WEBB MCKINLEY
ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — A radio station with power rivaling the Voice of America goes on the air here next month to broadcast Christian programs to Africa and Asia.

The target area of Radio Voice of the Gospel, owned by the Lutheran World Federation, dramatizes vast changes that have come over the work of Christian missionaries.

Less than 100 years ago, Dr. David Livingstone suffered and died in the African bush after a missionary career of unspeakable hardship. His work reached a tiny section of central Africa.

Today about 50 Protestant and Catholic radio stations help spread the word around the world.

From their comfortable campus on an Ethiopian hill, workers for Voice of the Gospel will beam the faith from the Atlantic coast of Nigeria to the Java Sea, and from the Bosphorus to the Cape of Good Hope.

They will broadcast in the Malagasy language to Madagascar, in Amharic to the Ethiopians, in Swahili to Tanganyika, in Arabic to the West Arab areas, in Zulu and Sesutu, English and Afrikaans to South Africa.

A non-Lutheran missionary in the Arab world has described this as "strategically the most important project ever undertaken by the Protestant Church."

Ethiopia was selected because of its central location and highland climate and the fact that it is an African pocket of Christianity.

Financed by an initial outlay of $1.5 million from American and European Lutherans, the project began taking shape in October 1961. A large studio-administration building and 23 staff houses have gone up on a 40-acre plot just west of Addis Ababa.

About 30 per cent of the programs will be religious. The rest will include cultural, educational and home service programs covering agriculture, hygiene, home economics, entertainment and news.

Talks Available On Constitution

LANSING (AP)—The Coordinating Committee for the State Constitution says it will be happy to supply speakers for any groups interested in more information about the proposed document. So does the Citizens for Sound Government, a group opposed to the constitution.

"All Michigan citizens are entitled to the facts and as a public service organization we are pledged to cooperate in this area," said Chairman Dewey Barich of the Coordinating Committee.

A letter or a telephone call to the committee headquarters will obtain a speaker, Barich said. There is no charge for the service, he added.

Thomas Walsh, chairman of the Citizens for Sound Government, which opposes the constitution, announced the opening of an office in Detroit in addition to one already operating in Lansing.

Walsh asked for support to present the negative side of the constitution and said volunteer assistance was needed to help in the scheduling of speakers.

Cliffs-Dow Survival

Local 14522 of the United Mine Workers is reported meeting today on its strike at the Cliffs-Dow Chemical Co. plant in Marquette. The union has been on strike since Jan. 3 over wages at the plant, which is Marquette's biggest employer.

The issue between the workers and their employees is an intimate thing which it is very difficult to judge fairly from the outside. But there are some elements of the strike which concern the public and which bear on the Upper Peninsula's efforts to improve its economy.

This area has not kept pace with the state or the nation in economic growth and the effort to stimulate this growth requires the cooperation of all workers and employers. If there is a general feeling that the area should pay high wages throughout and that it cannot it should be abandoned for more promising areas, much opportunity for growth here will be lost.

Cliffs-Dow has reported that it pays the highest wage and fringes of all companies in the same business (wood chemical distillates, charcoal, charcoal briquettes) in the United States, and that state records show its pay scale to be in line with those of other Upper Peninsula manufacturing industries.

This would seem to put the company in good position for bargaining. The crux is not whether Cliffs-Dow pays as much as GM in Detroit or GE in Schenectady; it is a very different business than they are and with different problems.

The workers approach the bargaining table with what they regard as their needs and presumably what they believe the company can pay. The company approaches bargaining with limitations on its wage offerings fixed by its competitive position. The public watches with the hope that these elements can be reconciled in a workable agreement.

That wood chemical industry and the charcoal business are no longer the golden geese of employment that they once were is evident. The Upper Peninsula once had wood chemical plants at Bay View out of Escanaba, at Iron Mountain, Manistique and Newberry. The Cliffs-Dow operation at Marquette is the only survivor.

It has, by good management, become the largest charcoal plant in the nation. But it is significant that its U. P. competitor, the Kingsford Chemical Co. at Kingsford, moved its plant to Kentucky a year ago to make a drastic saving in its wood bill and get nearer to its charcoal markets for that transportation saving.

Economic development studies of the U. P. to find ways for job making have stressed that the prime prospect is the enlargement of existing industries. If these are killed off, not only will the chance for growth by their enlargement be gone, but so will a valuable psychological factor; the example of successful industry in the area.

Cliffs-Dow has often been reported in industry articles as having shrunk its wood procurement area in the Upper Peninsula. This was necessitated by the impossibility of making a profit on chemical wood brought long distances. The situation shows a tightening of procurement spending which has its counterpart in the wage picture.

The Cliffs-Dow plant is very important to the Upper Peninsula and not only for the jobs it provides in Marquette. The plant's whole wood procurement area benefits from being able to market its trash woods for distillation and charcoal making. This is a need of modern forestry and modern forestry is the Upper Peninsula's greatest single long term prospect for renewable economic growth.

This is a marginal business. Tree tops, cull logs and thinnings do not bring a high price, but that they can be sold at all means they are not a dead loss in the woods. This industry merits general encouragement as a basic need of the Peninsula's forest economy. This was recognized in the discouraging comment upon the loss of the Kingsford Co. It must be hoped that Cliffs-Dow can be saved for the brighter future that it can help achieve and which it can use for greater rewards for all.

Grow Up!

You can find a hatful of theories about the causes of juvenile crime. The trouble with most of them is that they seem only partial explanations.

The playwright Arthur Miller, writing in Harpers, searched hard for a real common thread, one which would bind together juvenile crime not just in this country but all over the world. It runs high in Europe — even in the Soviet Union.

Miller believes he has found the bond. He thinks it is an all-prevailing boredom, a strange kind of emptiness of the mind and spirit.

This, he says, is not the boredom of idleness alone, though there can be little doubt that the joblessness of ill-trained youngsters contributes.

The emptiness he speaks of comes from an absence of challenges, a lack of genuine, meaningful conflicts, a failure to test the individual's will and capacity.

The poor man's son sees the government, with some erratic exceptions, providing welfare checks. The rich man's son sees his father providing cars, television sets, cameras, at the asking.

When does either young man learn he must earn the rewards of life?

In this grand age of excuse and permissiveness, the youth, rich or poor, is forgiven virtually all his errors by the courts, the welfare agencies and social workers, the indulgent parents. Few if any demands are made upon him.

In this situation, it is suggested, he manufactures excitement by venturing into daring and often brutal crime.

Parents, indeed the whole adult world, cannot be relieved of heavy responsibility for creating the vacuum in which today's youngsters thresh about — often so wildly. But neither can the young be absolved of blame.

One individual who seems to see things this way recently addressed teen-agers through the columns of a Washington newspaper. To young folk bemoaning their sad lot, he wrote:

"Go home! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves . . . Shovel the walk. Wash the car. Learn to cook . . ."

"Help the minister . . . Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons, and then when you are through — and not too tired — read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment . . . The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something . . . your time and energy and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again."

"In plain simple words: Grow Up. Quit being a cry-baby. Get out of your dream world. Develop a backbone, not a wishbone. And start acting like a man — or a lady . . ."

For parents and children alike, these words make a cracking good reading lesson with which to begin a new year.

Respite

Edson In Washington Memory Lane

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (N E A) — While President Kennedy in his State of the Union message puts tax reduction and reform as the most important issue, unemployment is still one of the most serious problems for the Kennedy administration, the new Congress, management, labor and the national economy.

Preliminary figures for 1962 show that unemployment dropped only 274,000 to an estimated 3.8 million as of Dec. 31.

Employment increased by 1.1 million jobs during the year while the civilian labor force increased by 800,000. Actually, nonfarm employment increased by 1.4 million jobs to a $7.5 million total. But farm employment dropped by 300,000 to four million total at year end. Solving the slowly but steadily decreasing agricultural employment problem is one of the harder-to-cure aspects of the situation.

Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz admits it is really surprising there are not more protests from the four million and more Americans who have been unemployed in the past two years.

One reason given is that unemployment is not general but concentrated in depressed industry and area pockets. Another reason there is not more protest is that unemployment insurance cushions the impact. Also, most of the unemployed are unskilled workers, the uneducated and young workers without job training or experience. Unemployment rates in these groups are twice as high as among skilled workers.

Government programs to reduce unemployment so far have been unable to do the whole job alone. Area redevelopment and manpower training programs are just getting started.

Not enough contracts have been let and construction started on the accelerated public works program to create many new jobs.

Congress took no action on the Kennedy administration youth employment opportunities proposal last year. It will be presented again to the new session. It is aimed at creating more jobs and reducing high unemployment for workers under 20.

Business leaders talk in optimistic tones about the possibility that a tax cut will stimulate industry to create new jobs. The same claim was made for the tax credit on new investments and the new depreciation allowance schedules put into effect last year, but there hasn't been enough time to measure their effects on employment.

ment and unemployment, if any. The other side of this coin is that new investments may be channeled into labor saving machinery that will cut employment instead of reducing unemployment. Wirtz is of the opinion that something will have to be done soon to offset unemployment caused by automation.

Organized labor leaders are counting on a tax cut for low income workers to stimulate consumer spending enough to create more jobs. The other big pitch in the union's program is to reduce the work week to 35 hours so as to spread available jobs among more workers.

Industry leaders oppose this as an effort to put over a disguised pay raise—less work for the same money. Wirtz also says, "I do not think this is the right answer."

A factor that concerns him more is that about 7 per cent of today's industrial production comes from overtime work. This is slightly above unemployment rates of around 6 per cent during the last two years.

If the unemployed could be given this work, everything might be dandy. But it isn't that easy. Much of the overtime production is temporary—like the current drive on manufacture of new models in the auto industry. Most of the unemployed in chronically depressed areas aren't located where the overtime work is available and, besides, don't have the skills to do it.

Also, from the employer's point of view, it has been estimated that it costs up to $1,500 the first year to add a new worker to the payroll.

If a new worker has to be laid off after a temporary work rush is over, he gets unemployment insurance, lowering the employer's rating. In some industries the worker would have to be paid supplementary benefits.

These are just a few of the many practical problems that have to be solved before unemployment can be reduced to the manageable proportions of a 4 per cent rate or less.

Rotary Has Program On Dr. Wehner's Trip

A program incorporating fascinating details of history, monuments and current trends, on a trip to the Orient and Europe was presented for Rotary Monday by Dr. Merle E. Wehner. The program, based on a recent world trip of the Wehner family was arranged by William Sonneborn.

The program dealt chiefly with Hawaii and the Orient, including Taiwan, China and Japan and also included a short section on India, which Dr. Wehner said fascinated him the most.

India is quite civilized, he reported, and there were claims the south part has reached a high peak in civilization and religion.

Peoples of the Orient seemed to be educated to be happy, rather than to acquire wealth, possessions, and a higher standard of living, which is somewhat characteristic of America, he observed.

American, rather than English is spoken in many of the countries, probably due to influence of American musical records and movies.

The colored pictures included scenes of the Taj Mahal, Japanese and Chinese temples and street scenes, gardens, resorts, farming areas. Seventh Day Adventist Hospitals, houseboats, clogging rivers, refugee settlements atop large buildings and in hills about Honk Kong, Oriental pageants and open air opera.

Events of the trip included attendance at a reception given by the President in India, where much attention was given the two Wehner children, the only ones present, and concern in Pakistan, where there was anti-American demonstration over American aid to India. The Wehners were asked to spend the day away from the city as students were smashing shop windows and otherwise rioting.

Differences of Shintoism, ("A Buddhist joy to the emperor,") Buddhism, founded when it was felt Hindus were too lax, Hinduism and Mohammedanism were included in the discussion.

The material covered half of the pictures taken on the trip and a request has been made for showing of the others for Rotary when they are developed.

Mink Breeders To Tour Europe On Market Mission

The Upper Peninsula Mink Breeders Association is sending two of its officers to Europe this month on a marketing mission to increase the acceptance of Upper Michigan mink pelts in European fashion centers.

Western Europe is now an important market for Upper Michigan mink and the Association wants to make it more so, says Joseph R. Goodman, Kipling mink rancher who is a director and former president of the Mink Breeders Association. He leaves Escanaba Thursday for New York to attend the fur auctions there and will be joined there by Gerald Theuerkauf, Menominee mink rancher, who is president of the Association. They will leave New York Jan. 27 for Copenhagen.

They plan to spend three days in Copenhagen and Denmark visiting fur auctions and ranches; then will fly to Oslo, Norway for visits to ranches and fur processing centers. From Oslo they go to Paris for three days of visits to fashion centers using mink in apparel trim coats, stoles and little fur.

The European fur market presents technical as well as fashion problems for American fur ranchers. The Scandinavian mink breeders furnish furs to this market dried with the fur outside. The American method is to dry pelts with the fur inside. There is also the question of duty, which is as much as 25 per cent of value in some countries on imports of dresser (finished and ready for use) furs. If the furs are imported raw for manufacture there is no duty.

Goodman said that he and Theuerkauf would seek closer working relationship with the high fashion centers in Europe using furs, either by acceptance of American methods of fur preparation in Europe, or of American preparation change to conform to European preferences. The ranchers will be assisted abroad by O. Brager-Larsen of Harbor Springs, Mich., a Lower Michigan mink rancher who was formerly one of the largest fox ranchers in Norway. Brager-Larsen will serve as both interpreter and European marketing counsel for the Peninsula ranchers.

Several days will be spent in London, too, on the trade mission.

"Europe is a sleeping giant for the American fur business," said Goodman. "West Germany, Italy, France, and Switzerland buy top quality U.S. mink pelts. Most of our members are mutation breeders (breeding for color control) and we can offer a great variety in top quality pelts. Edward Langenfeldt of New Holstein, Wis., president of Emba (Mutation Mink Breeders Association) has praised our effort to stimulate exports."

"The Upper Peninsula Mink Breeders Association has about 70 members in the Upper Peninsula and northeastern Wisconsin and they produce about 150,000 mink pelts yearly, with a value of $2 to $2.5 million."

"The fur trade is a big one. The fur trim business alone uses 4 million mink pelts yearly. The New York auction has a big sale of 430,000 skins on now and the Hudson Bay auction in New York is another big one that will start Jan. 29. It is still too early to tell that strong market preferences will be, but darks, pastels and whites were moving quite well in the early markets, with prices around $16-$18."

"Supply and fashion's color demands influence the market. Last year fashion introduced plum colored coats and they created a demand for brown cast Aleutian (gun metal color) males for collars."

Trustees Visit Other Colleges

Six of the eight members of the Bay de Noc Community College board of trustees are in Lower Michigan today and tomorrow for visits to other schools and to interview applicants for the position of college administrator.

Making the trip are: J. L. Heirman, president of the board, Art Slaughter, Charles Folio, Clayton Ford, Hagle Quarnstrom and Robert Groos. Unable to join the group were Dr. Albert Jenke and James Dotsch.

They will return Wednesday night after two days spent in visits to community colleges at Petoskey, Traverse City and Lansing. The trustees are interested in learning about the operation of community colleges, inspecting facilities, and informing themselves on curriculum.

Interviews with administrator position applicants in Lansing were arranged to save time and travel expense for the applicants from Lower Michigan. Heirman said before the trustees left for Lower Michigan. Local persons who feel qualified for the position are encouraged to make application, Heirman added.

If the schedule for the Bay de Noc Community College is realized the school will be opened in the present old Senior High School building in Escanaba next fall.

Surveyor Course Starts At Tech

HOUGHTON — Twenty-four Michigan men, including 21 from the Upper Peninsula, registered on the Michigan Tech campus Jan. 21 for a new 48-week surveying course for civil engineer aids.

The program, created under the provisions of the Manpower Development Training Act of 1962, is the first statewide MDTA program in Michigan and the first of its type in the nation.

At Tech, it will be administered by the Institute of Extension Services in cooperation with the Michigan Employment Security Commission, which screened applicants.

Students will attend classes 40 hours per week for 48 weeks, and emerge as surveyors, qualified to perform all activities usually associated with surveying.

As they pursue their training, each student will receive a weekly training allowance, plus a daily allowance for room and board if they do not live near enough to the campus to commute to classes.

The eastern Upper Peninsula sent two students to the course: Dennis Kleinke of Menominee and William Rolfe of Sault Ste. Marie.

15 Below Tonight:

Sub-Zero Blasts To Continue Here

This is the ninth consecutive day of sub-zero temperatures in the Escanaba area and there is no break in sight.

Tonight the low in Escanaba will be about 15 below and the Wednesday high will get to about -5. In some locations inland it is possible that temperatures as low as -40 will be experienced.

The 30-day weather outlook, mid-January to mid-February, for the Great Lakes region indicates temperatures "much below normal and light snowfall," reports S. E. Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist here.

No Record Yet

While the sub-zero temperatures are about as welcome as a pacifier at a Legion rally the cold so far has set no records, Decker said.

Weather Bureau records show that beginning about Jan. 12, 1885, there were 12 consecutive days when the temperature never got above zero; and for 35 of the 40 days in the period that followed there was a sub-zero reading.

In the Escanaba area it will be clear to partly cloudy tonight and a little colder tonight and tomorrow. There may be some slight modification in the cold Friday and Saturday "but no true break in Arctic cold coming down out of Canada is foreseen."

West Michigan, from the Holland area to the Straits of Mackinac, got a new snowfall ranging from 5 to 8 inches.

Covington -22
Central Michigan got only a light snowfall and highways of the area were reported clear. Everywhere else highways were described as snow-covered and slippery.

Many west Michigan schools remained closed because school buses could not travel snow-filled side roads.

Early-day temperatures ranged from Covington's 22 below in the U. P. to 18 above in Otta County of the Lower Peninsula.

Houghton had -11, Escanaba -9, and Marquette -7. Lower Peninsula readings included -7 at Alpena, -4 at Lansing and Flint and -3 at Grand Rapids.

Prominent U. P. Doctor Dies

MARQUETTE—Dr. Andrew L. Swinton, 85, dean of practicing physicians in the Marquette area and long prominent in civic and fraternal affairs here, died last Saturday at St. Mary's Hospital, where he had been a patient since Jan. 7. Death was caused by cerebral thrombosis.

Dr. Swinton, father and grandfather of doctors and husband of a doctor's daughter, began his medical practice in the lumbering and mining community of Ontonagon in 1900, when he was only 23. He had practiced in Marquette since 1918.

Frozen Europe Short Of Fuel

LONDON (AP)—Food and fuel shortages threatened Western Europe today as its freeze entered its 33rd day.

Hospitals were crowded with the aged and infirm laid low by biting winds, ice and snow. More than 100 deaths were blamed on the cold spell.

Weathermen reported no relief in sight.

Stocks in British coal yards were down to only two weeks' supply. Coal was frozen in coal cars, tying up thousands of cars on sidings.

The Western German Federal Railroad reported all its rolling stock in use to transport food, fuel and other essential supplies. Special trains were put in service to carry heating oil from the refineries in the north to snowbound cities of the south.

Holland was using 30 icebreakers to keep open the Scheldt estuary, the main entry point for ships carrying fuel, oil and coal.

The Austrian Cabinet was expected to consider power-saving measures today. Vienna and other Austrian cities were discussing water conservation. Vienna's reservoirs were reported just above the emergency level that must be maintained at all times in case of fires.

The French railroad sent 600 trucks to Antwerp to load up with coal after the French port of Dunkerque froze.

Surface temperatures of some stars are more than 50 times greater than those of our sun.

Nixon Had Point In Rap At Press, Eisenhower Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says his vice president, Richard M. Nixon, "did have a point" when he issued what Eisenhower calls his "bitter indictment of the press."

In the current Saturday Evening Post, Eisenhower has an article saying that throughout Nixon's political career, "it seemed that a considerable segment of the press was on his back."

"I suppose," Eisenhower wrote, "it was an extension of the curious, 'I don't like Nixon' cult, which I never could really understand."

"In any event," Eisenhower said, "it was obvious that many of the reporters did not like him, and frequently their bias showed through in their reporting of his activities and speeches."

Eisenhower referred to a Nixon news conference in Los Angeles last Nov. 7, after the former vice president lost the California gubernatorial election. Nixon said then that biased reporting had blocked his political comeback bid and that the news conference was his last.

In Palm Desert, Calif., a spokesman for the vacationing ex-president said Eisenhower would not identify the newspapers which he claimed printed biased reports about Nixon.

Eisenhower wrote: "Whether or not it was wise of Dick to lay down this bitter indictment of the press is a question I shall not discuss here. But he did have a point."

"Now, I believe implicitly in the freedom of the press, but I also believe in the responsibility of the press. The press and television are not just another business whose sole purpose is to make money; they are a public trust," Eisenhower continued.

"Every public man must expect criticism of his official acts and opinions. That is part of the democratic process."

"What I am talking about, however, is bias in reporting and the arrogant sort of journalistic sharp-shooting that occurs daily and weekly in all too many publications. This is the kind of character assassination before which a public man usually is defenseless, because libel action too often is quite futile."

"It could be that someday we shall have to enact stricter libel laws such as England has. I hope not. I hope rather that the communications industry of America will of itself come to show greater maturity."

World Watching Education In U.S.

EAST LANSING — "The vast challenges ahead in education cannot be avoided simply by restoring a narrower, more academic curriculum and by finding an elite to apply it to another elite willing to endure it."

This is the opinion of John E. Watson, an educational research worker from New Zealand who is a visiting Fulbright lecturer at Michigan State University this year.

"For better or worse," says Watson, "the United States is now the world leader in educational innovation, no less than in military might and economic power."

Because they have been conditioned for generations to look back to Europe to justify criticisms of their schools, some Americans, Watson points out, are a little puzzled to find that today the shoe is often on the other foot.

They may not have a sufficient appreciation, he says, that distinctive achievements of American schools are being studied intently in other parts of the world, especially in Europe.

Many educators, Watson notes, are now actively debating the extent to which schools are responsible for the high collective talent of the United States, for the openness and equality of its way of life, for its relative lack of arrogance and snobbery and its great range of collaborative activity.

Watson was impressed by the maturity of young Americans and "their easy affability, their understanding of themselves and others, their modesty and graciousness."

He said, "Your schools are undoubtedly only partially responsible for outcomes of this kind, and we do not underestimate the importance of wise parents and active community life."

"Naturally, however, we would like to examine the part played by your schools in encouraging these qualities, and calculate whether these contributions will be affected by new intellectual demands now being placed upon your schools."

Teachers, their habits and failings, reactions and frustrations, are Watson's special interest. Sponsored by the New Zealand Council for Educational Research, he is undertaking extensive follow-up studies of young teachers.

He says that there is now a worldwide interest in this topic—that the old educational truism that an education system is no better than the quality of its teachers is being appreciated more and more.

"I am anxious to learn," Watson says, "what this reappraisal has meant in the United States in developing new approaches to the task of educating teachers, their appointment promotion and pay, in more effective use of their talents and qualifications, and in extending their professional freedom and responsibilities."

"The similarities and differences in people who teach in different countries at different points in history can be rather fascinating."

"Elementary teachers in the United States are, for instance, about 10 years older on the average than they are in New Zealand, and most of them are women. In New Zealand, on the other hand, about half the teachers are men. Moreover, the pivotal figures in our schools are the principals rather than the superintendents."

While visiting your schools I would also like to form an estimate of the importance of differences of this kind in understanding the degree of sensitivity, skill and alertness shown by teachers in our two countries."

Truck Carrying Explosives Turns Over On UP Road

IRON RIVER — Loose wheel lugs always present a problem on a moving vehicle—but when they are found on a truck loaded with 10 tons of explosives, the situation becomes somewhat more critical.

Sheriff's officers were notified early last Friday morning that a truck loaded with 500 40-pound bags of "slurry," a dough-like explosive, was overturned on U.S. 2 near the intersection of county road 536 at Beechwood.

Twenty-two of the bags were broken, officers found.

The truck, owned by the Mesabi Blasting Agents, of Bewabic, Minn., driven by David Sherek, 25, of Bewabic, was on its way from Bewabic to Republic. While driving, Sherek noticed the truck was not behaving properly, so he pulled over to the shoulder. Inspection showed loose lug nuts on one wheel, which was about to collapse.

He called a wrecker. The wrecker lifted the truck, and was starting to move along the road when the lifting cable snapped, toppling the loaded truck on its side, spilling the load.

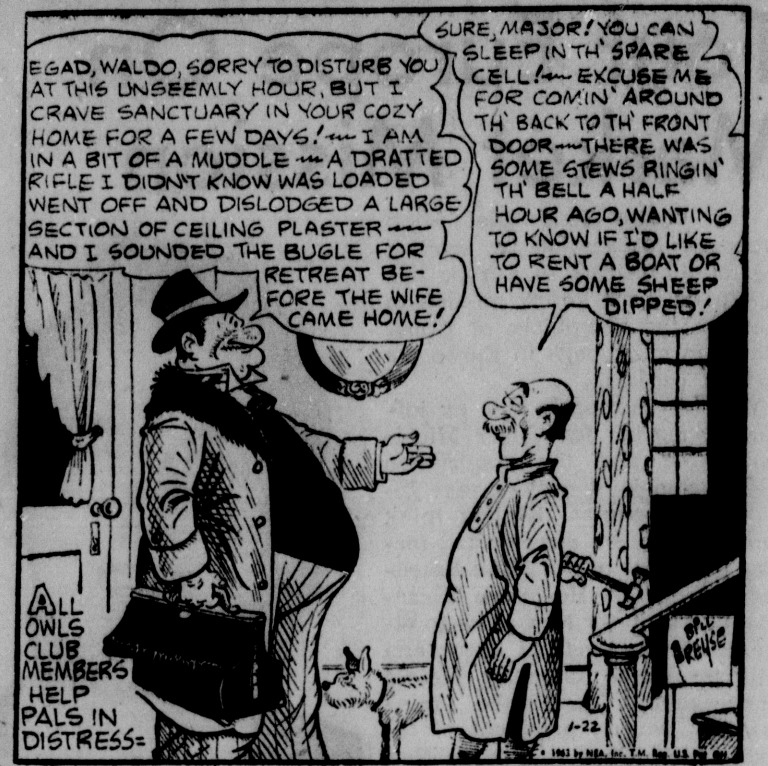

Sheriff's officers called in a second trucking firm, and the load was transferred to another truck and taken to Republic.

Stores Flooded At Menominee

MENOMINEE — Damage estimated in thousands of dollars was caused Saturday to the building and property of tenants when a ruptured pipe feeding water into the tower atop the Community Building burst, flooding the four lower floors before it was discovered a considerable time later.

The building houses Montgomery Ward & Company's Menominee retail outlet A & P Supermarket and a department of Fish Net & Twine Company. Tenants were too busy Saturday morning pumping out the water and mopping up to even hazard a guess on what their probable losses will be.

The flooding was discovered about 4:30 a.m. by the custodian, when he arrived for work. The building was protected by Insurance.

The ruptured pipe causing the flooding was in the tower's heating element. This tower is used as an auxiliary standby water reserve to supply the sprinkler system protecting the building against fire. The system is hooked into the city water system, and the tower supply was for use in event of interruption of the city system.

Before the flooding was discovered the water from the burst tower virtually cascaded into the lower floors via the stairways on the south side of the building. Heaviest damage was caused to the 4th floor stock room of Montgomery Ward where thousands of dollars in merchandise had been stored. On the first floor and basement there was not too extensive damage to the stock, but water had covered the floors. This was also the situation at the A&P market.

Considerable damage also occurred to the Fish Net & Twine company property and stock on the building's third floor. Twine in cartons was damaged as was some damage to equipment. Company officials tentatively estimated the loss at between $20,000 and $30,000. It was indicated the department may be closed on a partial basis pending repairs.

Both Ward's and the A & P are open for business.

Only if we continue to develop the leaders that are needed to handle the problems America faces.

But this may not be possible unless we back higher education. Today colleges are in a squeeze. Many face shortages, and in 10 years applicants will double. We need more and better laboratories and many more qualified teachers.

Born Clutterbug Enjoys His Past

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is what to keep—and what to throw away.

Some people don't have this trouble at all. They are the neat, precise people who feel no particular kinship to inanimate things.

As soon as they finish reading today's newspaper, into the incinerator it goes. As soon as this week's issue of a magazine arrives, out goes last week's issue—whether it has been read or not.

Such people automatically throw away shoes as soon as the leather cracks a little, and suits as soon as they get shiny or show the first signs of wear.

They live in a world that is always fresh, clean, antiseptic and neat—and their homes inevitably remind you of a furniture display in a department store window, inhabited by handsome mannequins, as free of dust as they are of individuality.

They dwell only in the present and future. They have no past, because they throw away anything that has a memory to it, anything that reminds them of something before now.

There are those who say that, if you hoard odds and trinkets as you grow older, you are merely demonstrating that you had an insecure childhood. I choose to regard this habit in another light—as a safeguard against an insecure adulthood, which afflicts us all.

When you surround yourself with objects that remind you of pleasant times gone by, they can be a strong solace and comfort in a perilous present.

So I assure my wife anyway. But Frances, who so far has succumbed only to an inherited weakness for saving string, replies:

"You're just a frustrated junk man at heart, a born clutterbug. Do you have to save everything? For example, why do you still keep in a box that tooth you broke on a government chocolate bar in Tunisia in 1943?"

"Because when I look at it," I tell her, "I can see again the waving wheatfields of North Africa. The old Roman ruins by moonlight. Troops around a campfire Hills sea-blue with flowers, or red with poppies."

My retirement goal is to buy a small four-room house with three basements and seven attics—and spend the rest of my days dwelling happily in the endless clutter and debris I've accumulated.

When I pass on, I intend to leave instructions in my will for my survivors to dig me a huge grave, and hire a bulldozer to push all that wonderful, dream-filled mass of memorabilia right in on top of me.

If you can't take it with you, why not stay there where it is?

Fish have been kept in captivity since about 2500 B. C., when the Sumerians maintained them in ponds for food.

Ann Landers

Dad Ego-Hungry

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please tell me what is wrong with a father who spends every spare minute being a Boy Scout leader when he has seven children of his own who need to be taught leadership, honesty, integrity and courtesy?

Our oldest son is 10. The baby is 14 months old. Unfortunately, all the boys are too young for Scouting. If they were old enough to join a troop they might get to know their father.

Every weekend he is out camping. On holidays he is out camping. He has even taken days off from his job to attend meetings and rallies. Please don't tell me what a grand service he is performing for the community. I'm sick of hearing about it. While he is serving the community so nobly, and saving other children from juvenile delinquency, his own family is falling apart.

There must be an explanation for his behavior. If I understood it perhaps I could live with it. Can you help? — R. L.

Dear R. L.: Boy Scout leaders do perform an essential service to the community, but a man who puts community service ahead of family obligations is completely out of line.

This ego-hungry husband of yours finds it a great deal more satisfying to be the idol of a scout troop than to accept the responsibilities of fatherhood. He is, in a sense, continuing his own childhood.

If this father waits until his sons are 12 years old before he begins to pay attention to them, they'll probably join some other troop — and it may not have any connection with the Boy Scouts.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband works in an office which employs 25 men and women. In the past two years three of his co-workers have had weddings in their families. In all instances, a blanket invitation was posted on the office bulletin board. The employees all chipped in for gifts. My husband and I attended two of the three weddings. About six other employees attended also.

Our son is being married in the spring. My husband thinks we should follow the office procedure and post an invitation on the bulletin board. I never felt this was proper, but he says we must not hurt anyone's feelings. He says, "When in Rome, do as the Romans do."

We would appreciate it, Ann, if you would help us decide. — PERPLEXED.

Dear Perplexed: The Romans did plenty that wasn't worth imitating, so forget about THAT phrase.

A note on the office bulletin board is just fine for informing employees that the coffee machine is on the fritz, but it's no way to invite people to a wedding. Send personal invitations in the mail — and confine the invitations to those you WANT to invite.

Dear Ann Landers: I like your column because you seem to understand that a teenager's problem can be terribly important to the teenager, even though it may seem silly to other people.

My girl and I have been going steady for six months. We are both Baptists and attend church together every Sunday. There is an atmosphere of peace and love in our church and I enjoy holding hands with my girl during services.

The folks who sit on either side have given us some icy glances of disapproval. What is your opinion of teenagers holding hands during services in a nice, quiet, respectable way, of course? We both have agreed to do as you say — TJ AND TB.

Dear TJ and TB: Sorry, but there's a time and a place for everything, and I can't endorse hand-holding in church. Keep your hands free for turning the pages of the hymnal, Son.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with you request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this news-paper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Record Attendance At Junior High PTA Meeting

The large and attentive gathering last night at the Junior High School P. T. A. gave strong indication that parents, both fathers and mothers, teachers, and friends of youth, have keen interest in the welfare and development of its young people.

The program topic, "Focus on Teens and In-Betweens" began with an excellent performance by the 7th grade students of the "C" Band, under the direction of David Laakso. Music chosen was from the period of the 18th and 19th century.

Dr. Albert Jenke, focused attention on the physical changes of adolescence. He emphasized that not all boys and girls start adolescence at the same time. Each child moves through these changes at his or her own rate. The doctor pointed out that some adolescents are haunted by doubts that they are not measuring up in growth, development, and appearance. Both boys and girls may fret over acne, which is brought on by glandular imbalance, poor eating habits and physical changes—all intensified by emotional problems. Height is also often a concern for parents as well as children.

Dr. Jenke emphasized that because of nature's way of setting of timetables in growth variation, parents and teachers need to accept the adolescent as he is and give some consideration of some wholesome letting alone to give space and time to flex his or her own capabilities. The need is for self expression. But the adolescent also needs guidance enough so that the mistakes made are not the kind that hurts others or himself. The role of the adult should be that of guidance and understanding.

Edwin Wuehle, assistant superintendent of Escanaba Schools, reminded parents that in order to understand their children they should be as certain as they can be as to what the intelligence of their child is. We too often base our attitudes on comparison with other children in the family or neighbors' children, he said. Since the grouping of children in the schools is done on a birth date basis the development of the inner-self may not be constant with this. He suggested that parents consult the teachers of their children, and work with them, to see that their rate of intelligence is according to the records that have been made during their daily experiences with them on the educational level. Before any of us—parents and teachers, can help a young person work out his worries, he continued, we must know and accept him as an individual. Frequently we forget that we are looking at his problem from our point of view, not his.

As the program concluded parents were reminded of the importance of the special school election in February.

Mrs. Gerald Hannemann, PTA president announced that the next P. T. A. meeting will take place in April.

Co-op Plan For Sault Power Seen Aid To Peninsula

Escanaba City Council has been informed by Supt. William Van Effen of the City Electric Department that an estimated saving of a half million dollars a year in reduced power rates would result from proposed use of the surplus water rights on the St. Mary's River at Sault Ste. Marie.

The rights are now being used by the Union Carbide Co. in chemical manufacture there under a contract running to 1980, but the Carbide Co. is ceasing operations and the Army Corps of Engineers, which administers the power canal, is currently considering a new use for the hydro power generated at the Sault by the Lake Superior water flushed down the power canal into the St. Mary's River.

Carbide Power Co. seeks to transfer its power rights to Edison Sault Electric Co. The American Public Power Association, of which the City of Escanaba is a member, has reported "it is expected that the bulk of the power, under this (carbide) arrangement, would be sold to Consumers Power Co. for use in central and Southern Michigan."

"Public Resource"

Van Effen, who attended a Corps of Engineers hearing in Chicago on the Sault power rights with City Manager George Harvey and Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe, reported to Escanaba City Council:

"The waters of the St. Mary's River are a public resource. The plan proposed by the Lake Superior Water Rights Committee, a group of representatives of co-operative and municipal utilities, will make benefits from use of the surplus rights available over a large area in the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula. This is now considered a high power cost area."

"Studies reveal that maximum benefits would not be realized by limiting this use of power to the Upper Peninsula alone. Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative, an existing generation and transmission cooperative (of Boyne City in the Lower Peninsula) is now the wholesale power supplier for three member cooperatives—the Cherryland Rural Electric Cooperative Association of Traverse City, the Presque Isle Electric Cooperative of Onaway and the Top o' Michigan Rural Electric Co. of Boyne City. The three distribution cooperatives operate 6,500 miles of line in serving 32,000 member consumers located in the northern 17 counties of the Lower Peninsula."

Co-op Asks Power

"Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative's... principal generating source is a small modern steam plant on Lake Charlevoix near Boyne City. Power supply is supplemented by a diesel plant, two small hydro plants and interconnections with Consumers Power Co. and the City of Traverse City."

"An application of these water rights, accompanied by an engineering study, has been made to the Corps of Engineers by the

North Central Case Up To CAB

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board expanded a North Central Airlines use-it-or-lose-it proceeding Monday into a full scale investigation of the need for regional airports in Michigan.

The board said it would try to determine whether the following cities should be jointly served through airports now in use or through construction of new airports:

1. Battle Creek and Kalamazoo;
2. Grand Rapids and Muskegon;
3. Saint Joseph-Benton Harbor and South Bend;
4. Jackson and Lansing;
- and 5. Flint and Saginaw-Bay City-Midland.

The expanded case will also consider:

The proposal of North Central to discontinue service at Cadillac-Reed City, Pontiac and Port Huron, cities which have failed to generate the minimum amount of air traffic required for continued air line service.

The application of North Central, for suspension of service by United Air Lines at Flint, Saginaw, Lansing and Muskegon, and for a route for North Central between Saginaw and Chicago by way of Muskegon.

Whether Gaylord—a ski resort 70 miles northeast of Traverse City—should be certified for air line service, either through its own airport or through an area airport.

Capital Airlines asked the CAB in 1960 to eliminate Muskegon from its route, but after Capital merged into United, United asked that Capital's application be dismissed.

Wife Keeps Car; Estranged Husband Sets It On Fire

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Strauss of Allentown, who said he hasn't driven his car since last summer although he has been making all the payments, set fire to it, Allentown police said Monday.

Strauss told police his estranged wife, Ethel, has had possession of the car and he's been walking. Monday he found the auto parked downtown, drove it to the outskirts of the city and set fire to it, said the police.

The interior was damaged. Strauss was held in bail on disorderly conduct charges.

Perch Disappear From Moran Bay; Question Is Why?

ST. IGNACE—The fishing shanty town on Moran Bay, which highlighted the winter sportsman's program here have disappeared and are being used elsewhere.

Now, only the most ardent ice fishermen attempts to fill his creel with Moran Bay perch and he is seldom successful. The perch have disappeared from the bay and Tip-Up-Town Moran Bay is kept alive here by the old ice fishermen who still have the ability to tell fish stories about the big yellow perch that were at one time so plentiful.

George Michalka, who headed the Mackinac Conservation Club, told the members before he left to make his home in California that the perch left the bay because the food supply had disappeared. He claimed that when the state ferries were operating, feed was plentiful because the boats constantly stirred up the soil at the bottom of the bay, keeping it cultivated and the sea weeds growing.

Still another ardent perch fisherman claims the perch left the bay because of the chloride used during the winter on roads and sidewalks. He believes it seeps into the bay and kills the plant life.

Most citizens here will say that Tip-Up-Town was good for the economy of the area during the long winter months. The question remains to be answered.

Why did the perch disappear from Moran Bay?

Kennedy's Sisters Cancel India Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's three sisters have called off a trip to India and Pakistan.

A spokesman for Eunice Shriver, wife of Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, said the trip had depended on whether all three could get away at the same time, and it didn't work out.

Last August, Mrs. Shriver and her sister Jean, wife of campaign coordinator Stephen E. Smith, took a European trip.

This time sister Pat, wife of actor Peter Lawford, had planned to go with them.

Plant In Detroit Has $150,000 Fire

DETROIT (AP)—A five-alarm fire today caused an estimated $150,000 damage to H. O. Terrie Co. in the near-downtown area of Detroit.

Nobody was reported injured in the blaze that was fought by 34 pieces of equipment. A janitor, apparently the only person in the building, escaped unharmed.

Detroit Fire Chief Glenn Thom estimated damages and said the second floor of the two-story, brick building was destroyed with heavy damage on the main floor. Terrie Co. manufactures thermometers, steam traps and pressure gauges.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Outlook Hopeful For Agreement On Nuclear Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union launch here today a major new effort to reach a nuclear test ban agreement.

The conference is regarded as the best chance in almost two years to break the long deadlock. U.S. officials, however, laced their expressions of hope with words of caution.

They stressed that many issues—both major and minor—will have to be solved, particularly the U.S. and Soviet differences over inspections to guard against test cheating.

In Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko dashed a little cold water on optimism. He told correspondents that the Soviet Union can agree to only three on-site inspections a year. The United States contends this is not enough. Gromyko also insisted that France must join in any test ban agreement.

The nuclear talks begin this afternoon when four Americans, four Russians and two Britons sit down at a conference table in the State Department.

Representing the United States will be William C. Foster, director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Charles C. Stelle, deputy U.S. representative at the 18-nation Geneva disarmament talks; and two officials not yet identified.

The Soviet delegation will be headed by Nikolas T. Fedorenko, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, and Semjon K. Tsarapkin, chief Soviet representative at the Geneva conference.

Britain's chief representative will be Sir David Ormsby Gore, ambassador to Washington, who was England's chief delegate to the disarmament conference before his appointment to this country.

Pope Is Given 2 White Lambs

By The Associated Press

Pope John XXIII was given two small white lambs in Vatican City on the occasion of St. Agnes Day in a centuries-old tradition.

The wool of the two lambs, when they grow up, will be used to make the pallium, a circular band worn on the shoulders by the Pope, archbishops and patriarchs. The pallia are made by oblates of St. Frances of Rome.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will pay a three-day visit to Denmark in March, the Danish Foreign Ministry announced in Copenhagen.

U.S. Ambassador Walworth Barbour was received by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion in Jerusalem for a lengthy discussion which was understood to be a continuation of last month's Florida talks between President Kennedy and Foreign Minister Golda Meir on U.S. proposals to solve the Arab refugee problem.

Diabetes Is Fatal To Chemist Who Pioneered Insulin

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Gordon A. Alles, noted chemist who pioneered the development of insulin for treatment of diabetes, died Monday of diabetes.

Friends said Dr. Alles, 61, either did not know he had the disease or he kept the knowledge to himself.

He collapsed in a diabetic coma Sunday at his home in neighboring San Marino and died a few hours later in Huntington Memorial Hospital here.

Dr. Alles did considerable research on insulin, helping purify it sufficiently for humans to use it. He also discovered the physiological properties of benzedrine and contributed to its development as a drug.

Rifle Slug In Leg Since '91 Pops Out

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — George W. McCauley was 8 years old when he was shot in the right leg in 1891 in a hunting accident in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

He never had the .22 caliber slug removed.

Today, McCauley displayed the slug which popped out of his leg at home.

Dr. Walter C. Kotarski theorized the bullet worked its way out after McCauley suffered a recent bruise.

NEWBERRY

Beth Bennett Is Bride Of Glenn Chateaufneuf

All Saint's Episcopal Church was the scene Saturday for the wedding of Miss Beth Lorraine Bennett and Glenn A. Chateaufneuf. The double ring, candlelight ceremony was performed by Vicar William Wiedrich.

Mrs. Ruth Mahar accompanied Mrs. James Squire, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the service. Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Delos Bennett of Newberry and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Chateaufneuf of Bay City.

A floor length gown of imported Chantilly lace over taffeta was chosen by the bride. It featured a smooth bodice, scalloped portrait neckline, long tapering sleeves and was highlighted by a series of lace ruffles cascading to the hemline in back. Her veil of mist illusion was held in place by a double crown of crystal and pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and carried a single orchid on a white prayer book.

Attending the bride were Donna Robinson of Newberry, maid of Honor and Janet Chateaufneuf, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of turquoise blue with bouffant ballerina length skirts of chiffon, lace tops and whimsies of veiling and velvet. Both carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Ronald Wartuck of Bay City served as best man, while Joseph Bennett, a brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Alvin Covell and Lewis Vesel of Engadine seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a blue sheath of wool with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a green silk dress with matching accessories and both wore corsages of white carnations.

Two Peninsula Teams Keep Top Spots In Cage Ratings

By The Associated Press

Benton Harbor, River Rouge, Ontonagon and Champion remained atop The Associated Press high school basketball rankings for the third straight week today.

Saginaw Arthur Hill (7-0) moved up a notch to second behind Benton Harbor (8-0) in the Class A rankings while Grosse Pointe (11-0) dropped to third. Grosse Pointe's narrow 69-66 overtime victory over Dearborn Fordson cost it one position in the weekly voting of panels of sports writers and sportscasters across the state.

Vassar (8-0) pulled into second in Class B behind River Rouge (9-1). Hudsonville Unity Christian (9-1), suffering its first loss last week, fell two spots to fourth. Grosse Pointe St. Paul (8-0) slipped into second position in Class C behind Ontonagon (10-0). Capac (8-0) continued unbeaten, but fell to third.

Champion (11-0) remained first in Class D, again followed by Owosso St. Paul (7-1).

The voting based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for a second, etc., through 1 point for a 10th-place vote:

Dozen Former Champions Will Fight In Tournament

Up to 13 defending or past champions will be in the field for the 1963 Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament which opens Saturday night at the Holy Name gymnasium.

Latest ex-champion to submit an entry was Curt Hytinen of Trenary, now residing in Milwaukee. One of a famed trio of fighting brothers, Curt ripped through the ranks of Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin middleweights a few years ago before retiring temporarily from ring activity.

Now 22 years old, Hytinen is back in training in Milwaukee and will resume his boxing career in the 21st annual U. P. fight tournament.

Heading the list of defending champions are the Bosanic brothers, of Manistique, rated among the finest amateur scrappers ever turned out in the Upper Peninsula.

Five-Time Titlist

Pete, the oldest, is a veteran of seven years in U. P. boxing circles and is a five-time Upper Peninsula titlist. The hard-hitting middleweight was one of the nation's best last year when he won the U. P. title, beat Wisconsin's Jerry Turner on a TKO in Green Bay, lost on an unpopular decision in Chicago and reached the finals of the National Amateur Athletic Association tournament in Cincinnati.

Larry came into his own as a fighter of national prominence last year.

He captured the U. P. crown, added the Northeastern Wisconsin title at Green Bay and reached the quarterfinals of the national Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago. He stopped Shawano's Jim Caldwell, 1961 National AAU 139 pound champion, in one round in Menominee and whipped Tom Heisler, Kenosha tournament 147 pound king, in Manistique to highlight his most successful year of boxing. He will battle at 147 this year.

Schomer Returns

Another popular defending champion back this year will be Menominee's Dick Schomer, 118 pound Peninsula and Wisconsin king. He was named the outstanding fighter in the Green Bay tournament last year, helping the Upper Peninsula team to a victory over the Fond du Lac titlists.

Other former champions who have been in training and are probable entries this year are Lawrence Elie, Joe Sarasin, Phil D'Ambrasio and LeRoy Sovey of Escanaba, Duane Dixon and Don Rushford of Manistique, Bob Zukas and Neil Beaudou of Menominee and Andy Rodgers of Trenary.

With six entries from K. I. Sawyer Air Base swelling the field, Escanaba tournament officials expect an entry list of about 40 fighters.

Following the opening tournament bouts this Saturday night, the championship fights will be staged Feb. 2. Open and novice champions will advance to Green

Wilt Has Tough Time Last Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Things are getting rougher for Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of the San Francisco Warriors in the National Basketball Association.

The perennial No. 1 league scorer suffered his worst week in his four-year NBA career when he scored only 117 points in four games last week. This is an average of 29.3 compared to his season average of 46.2 for 47 games which leads the league.

While his 46.2 average on 882 field goals and 406 foul shots for 2,170 points is far ahead of the 33.7 for runner-up Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, Chamberlain is off from his 50-point per game average of last year. And the most points the 7-foot-1 former Kansas All-America has made in one game this year is 73 points compared to his record 100 last season.

League statistics released today include games through Sunday.

Bo Belinski Gets Raise In Salary

By The Associated Press

There are some who claim Bo Belinski's best pitch is the one he makes off the field.

Belinski, who ran into more trouble in his first season in major league baseball than Napoleon did at Waterloo, insists it's a screwball.

He says it without cracking a smile. Apparently he is going to get a chance to prove it one way or another during the 1963 season with the Los Angeles Angels, who signed him Tuesday with this guarded accolade from General Manager Fred Haney:

"He could become one of the game's fine pitchers. It's strictly up to him. He has great ability and if he concentrates on baseball, Bo can become a great asset to the club, to baseball and to himself."

Belinski, who came to the majors more celebrated as a pool shark than a pitcher and for a time found it just as easy to put the ball in the strike zone as the side pocket, had a sensational rookie year in 1962.

He was fined $250 for after-hours shenanigans, was the subject of a $150,000 damage suit and was the center of a controversial trade which he eventually helped to kill. He also pitched a no-hitter and posted a 10-11 record.

While Belinski was accepting terms, Minnesota first baseman Vic Power chose an unusual moment to agree to his. Twins' President Cal Griffith mentioned in his talk at a breakfast club meeting that Power had not yet signed. Power promptly interrupted and said "I accept."

Dick Donovan, Cleveland's first 20-game winner in six years, came to terms with the Indians while the Los Angeles Dodgers added six pitchers—Ron Perranoski, Ed Roebuck, Joe Moeller, Phil Ortega, Bob Miller and Bill Singer.

Independents, Mead Post Wins

The Independents defeated Flat Rock and Mead downed Jaycees No. 2 in City League action Monday night.

Phil Dubord tallied 14 and John Berrigan 13 to lead the Independents over Flat Rock 74-66. Bill Micheau had 26, Bill Smith 20 and Wally Slade 19 for the losers.

Todd Butler led Mead to a 56-32 margin over the Jaycees with 23 points. Ray Hoggstead had 15 for the losers.

Brumm's Hockey Team Gets Split

GREEN BAY—The Waterloo Blackhawks, with Leonard (Oakie) Brumm of Marquette as play-coach, split in two games with the powerful Green Bay Bobcats over the weekend, winning 7-2 and losing 10-5.

The defeat was only the second of the season for the Bobcats who lead the United States Hockey League. Green Bay has fashioned 12 victories.

Brumm's Blackhawks, newest team in the U.S.H.L., have won eight and lost nine this season.

Pro Grid Case In New Court

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—The American Football League, a loser in a lower court, takes its $10.8-million anti-trust suit against the National Football League today to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The AFL contends its long-established professional football rival used monopolistic powers in a conspiracy to prevent establishment of the new league three years ago.

Last June 12, U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled that the AFL had not been damaged when the NFL expanded into Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The NFL, during hearings that lasted from last Feb. 26 to April 26, contended it had been planning expansion for several years before the AFL was founded.

The unique traffic jam at the top of the Great Lakes Conference standings should be thinned out in a heavy weekend of action.

Five teams are in the thick of the scramble for the 1963 GLC championship, including defending titlist Marquette. All five teams have suffered only two defeats thus far this season.

Escanaba and Gladstone are knotted at the top with 6-2 records. Marquette and Negaunee have 5-2 marks and Manistique is 4-2. The Soo Blue Devils, at 4-3, are also not out of the running yet.

Coach Harold Johnson's Eskymos could move into sole possession of first place this weekend with a Saturday night home court victory over the Newberry Indians. The Eskymos missed their golden opportunity to take a solid grip on first place when they bowed to Marquette by a single point Saturday.

The Gladstone Braves, loser of two in a row after seven straight season victories, step out of the conference Friday night to host Coach Vic Fochesato's Norway Vikings of the Menominee Range Conference.

Marquette, fresh from the 58-57 edge over Esby, returns home to entertain the Ishpeming Hematites who trimmed Gladstone Friday and were belted Saturday by the Stephenson Eagles.

Negaunee gets a taste of the Eagle brand of medicine Friday night at Stephenson in a game that school officials hope will be played in the spacious new gymnasium.

Munising is at Newberry in the remaining game Friday night with the two teams battling to keep out of the conference basement.

Negaunee also hosts Kingsford in a non-conference game Saturday night.

Badger Passer To Sign Today

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin quarterback Ron VanderKelen, whose college career was a mystery to most professional football scouts until his Rose Bowl heroics, has a secret rendezvous set today for "somewhere in this country" to sign with the pro club of his choice.

Gene Calhoun, attorney and adviser to Wisconsin athletes, said Monday he could not divulge VanderKelen's choice. He said the 23-year-old Badger passer would go to the town of his choice and take part in a full-scale signing ceremony today.

His statement and other facts learned Monday indicated VanderKelen was en route to a National Football League city, possibly his hometown of Green Bay, Wis., where it is known the league champion Packers have made numerous overtures.

New York Titans, who picked VanderKelen on the 21st round of the American Football League draft, admitted they had been unable to get in touch with the Wisconsin star although they were very much interested in his services.

VanderKelen was overlooked by most pro scouts as he finished out his college career and led Wisconsin to the Big Ten title. But they began to look him over after his pinpoint passing and shrewd play calling just missed giving the Badgers a Rose Bowl victory over Southern California.

Bucyk Takes Over NHL Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Johnny Bucyk, 27-year-old left wing for the last-place Boston Bruins, has taken over the National Hockey League scoring lead from New York's Andy Bathgate and is headed for the best season of his eight-year NHL career.

Bucyk, who came to the Bruins in the 1957 trade that sent goalie Terry Sawchuk to Detroit, scored five points last week and now has a total of 46 on 20 goals and 26 assists, according to league statistics released today. Bucyk's personal high in the NHL is 60 points.

Bathgate, who picked up only one assist last week, has 45 points.

Hickock Award Given To Wills

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Maurry Wills said he was going to "play it by ear and see how it goes" next season but hinted National League pitchers could expect more of the same on the bases.

The fleet shortstop of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who stole a record 104 bases last year, accepted the S. Rae Hickock Professional Athlete of the Year award Monday night. He was presented with the $10,000 jeweled belt at the annual charity dinner of the Rochester Press-Radio Club.

"It wasn't too bad last year," said Wills. "My right thigh was plenty sore from sliding during the last three weeks. But it is all right now. If you are going to play this game, you have to go all out."

Bearcats Retain Top Cage Ranking

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's all-conquering Bearcats remained the undisputed leader among the nation's college basketball teams for the eighth straight week today.

The mighty Bearcats, bent on an unprecedented third straight national championship, made their season record 14-0 last week with a Missouri Valley Conference victory over Bradley.

The triumph, first for Cincinnati at Peoria after five straight losses there in as many seasons, prompted the AP's 45-man panel of sports writers and sportscasters to make the 'Cats an unanimous first-place choice in the weekly poll. It was Cincinnati's 32nd straight victory over a two-season span.

Loyola of Chicago and Illinois, which have been dogging the Bearcats all season, continued in the Nos. 2 and 3 roles but Arizona

State dropped from fourth to fifth and Ohio State, sixth a week ago, dropped out of the top ten altogether as Mississippi State returned to the select group.

Duke moved up a peg replacing Arizona State in fourth place and West Virginia jumped three notches, from ninth to sixth. Georgia Tech, Wichita and Stanford retained the seventh, eighth and tenth places, respectively.

The top ten, based on total points allowing 10 for a first place team, 9 for second, 8 for third and down to 1 for tenth place:

1. Cincinnati 450
2. Chicago Loyola 379
3. Illinois 358
4. Duke 282
5. Arizona State 155
6. West Virginia 120
7. Georgia Tech 115

Schayes Reaches Court Milestone

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be a touch of nostalgia for basketball fans at Madison Square Garden tonight.

On the same court where he used to star for New York University, 34-year-old Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals will become the first player in the history of the National Basketball Association to play in 1,000 regular season games.

The vehicle for this latest milestone in the career of professional basketball's Iron Man is the first game of an NBA doubleheader pitting Syracuse against St. Louis. Boston plays New York in the second game. In another game to night Detroit is at San Francisco.

Detroit opened its West Coast trip Monday night by losing to Los Angeles 124-94 as the Lakers started a new winning streak after their 11-game string was snapped by Boston Sunday. It was the only NBA game scheduled Monday.

Since he joined Syracuse 15 years ago after his graduation from NYU, Schayes has become synonymous with durability in the tough pro league. Actually he has played in 1,109 NBA games, including 999 regular season games, 98 playoff games and 12 All-Star games.

Old No. 4, the number Schayes wears on his jersey, set an NBA record last year of playing in 706 consecutive games before a fractured cheek bone temporarily put him on the bench. Every time he scores a point or grabs a rebound he breaks his own all-time NBA record.

Going into tonight's game, Schayes has scored 18,771 regular season points on 5,970 field goals and 6,831 fouls, an average of roughly 19 points per game.

After a close first quarter in which the lead changed hands seven times, Los Angeles broke the game with Detroit open with a 38-point spurge in the second period for a commanding 65-42 halftime bulge.

Kevin Loughery of Detroit and Hot Rod Hundley of Los Angeles exchanged punches on the sidelines in the last two minutes, but the flurry was quickly broken up. A foul was called on Loughery for shoving and Hundley made the free throw.

Dick Barnett, with 28 points, was high for the first place Western Division Lakers. Bailey Howell led Detroit with 25.

Hawkeyes Edge Spartan Quint

By The Associated Press

Illinois, Indiana, and Minnesota, the top three contenders in the Big Ten basketball race, felt no jolt when Iowa edged Michigan State, 60-59, Monday night.

Iowa's triumph prevented Michigan State (2-2) from climbing into a third place with Minnesota (3-1) while Illinois (4-0) and Indiana (2-0) remained the league's untouchables through idleness.

The Hawkeyes, who have little chance of winning the Big Ten title because of a 3-3 record, are proving top spoilers.

They wrecked Ohio State Saturday when they stormed from behind for an 81-74 victory and all but doomed MSU's hopes Monday night.

Andy Hankins and Jimmy Rodgers led Iowa with 15 points each while Pete Gent topped Michigan State with 14 points. The Hawkeyes led 25-24 at the half and made the slim margin stand for victory.

Big Ten action was limited to the Iowa-Michigan State game Monday night but Purdue tangled with Notre Dame in non-conference competition and dropped a 96-86 decision.

Marion Ladewig Sets Keq Record

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The names of Marion Ladewig and Billy Welu on top of the All-Star Bowling Tournament standings board brought back memories of the 1959 event today.

Mrs. Ladewig and Welu won the all-star crown four years ago at Buffalo, N.Y. It was the seventh title for Mrs. Ladewig, the Grand Rapids, Mich., grandmother, and the first for Welu, St. Louis pro.

Mrs. Ladewig, 48, charged to the top of the women's field Monday with the best 20-game qualifying total on record, 4,185. She clinaxed her drive with a 246-224-200-960 series.

Welu, 29, tightened his grip on the men's lead with a 20-game record of 4,563. He rolled an eight-four game set Monday.

Old Joe Brown Will Try Again

HOUSTON (AP)—Joe Brown will try to prove there's still life in those old bones tonight when he crawls through the ropes for his second comeback bout after losing the lightweight title.

The 37-year-old former king of the 135-pounders takes on Tony Noriega of Bakersfield, Calif., in a 10-round main event at the City Auditorium.

Brown lost his title to Carlos Ortiz last April in Las Vegas and then dropped another decision to Luis Molina in August. He didn't look either time like the fighter who beat Wallace (Bud) Smith for the title in 1956.

Now after a long layoff, Brown says he is eager to find out what he can do against Noriega, a youngster who resembles Molina in the ring.

Rematch Papers Set For Signing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Formal contracts have been drawn and may be signed today to bring the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson return heavyweight championship boxing match to the Convention Hall here April 4.

Al Bolan of Championship Sports, Inc., which will promote the 15-round event, said he was trying to complete negotiations here instead of in New York and expressed belief they would be concluded today.

The only stumbling block could come from the Liston camp, still trying to collect $207,000 from the fight in Chicago last Sept. 25 when Liston won the title from Patterson.

Jack Nilon, advisor to Liston, said he had a copy of the contract but had not received the money. He demanded $85,000 now and the balance in escrow.

Sports In Brief

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings Monday traded forwards Floyd Smith and Larry Jeffrey to their Pittsburgh farm club in the American Hockey League for center Eddie Joyal and right wing Lowell MacDonald. The two new Red Wings were the leading scorers on the Pittsburgh team. MacDonald had 19 goals and 18 assists, while Joyal had 18 goals and 19 assists.

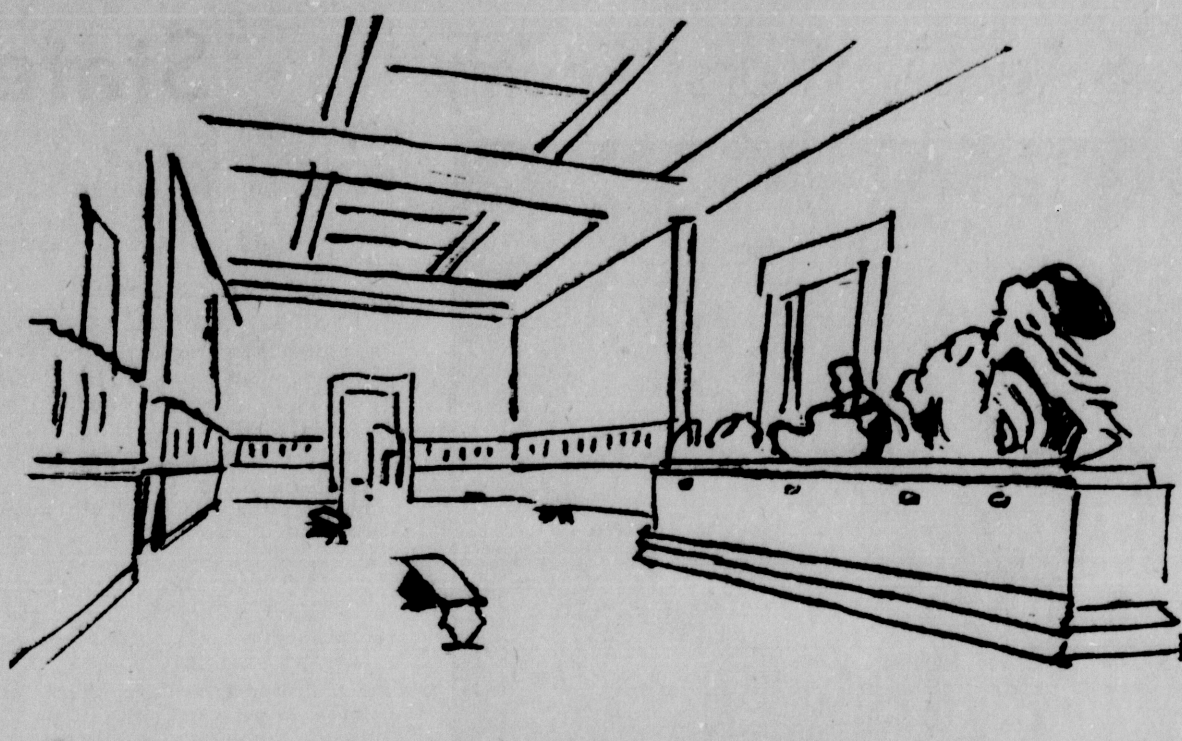

CHICAGO (AP)—Former University of Michigan pitcher Mike Joyce signed his 1963 contract with the Chicago White Sox Monday. Joyce was brought up from Savannah, Ga., last July and had a 6-3 record in relief.

DETROIT (AP)—Pitchers Don Mossi and Bill Faul signed 1963 contracts with the Detroit Tigers Monday. Mossi, who had an 11-13 record last season, signed his 10th major league contract. Faul, who received a $25,000 bonus last June from Detroit, will be trying to make the Tiger pitching staff for the first time.

Duveen gallery - British Museum

Lord Duveen, the art dealer, gave $400,000 to construct this gallery of the British Museum in London to house the Elgin Marbles. They are on a ledge about the wall of the great room, with gaps in places and notations that some of the slabs of the frieze are missing. The pediments from the temple are on the stand at right. Lord Elgin's men took 15 metopes, 56 slabs and the pedimental figures from the Parthenon and other buildings.

Jackie, Like Greeks, Is For Elgin Marbles Return

By JEAN WORTH

LONDON—A member of the parliament of Greece has asked when it intends to demand the return to Greece of the Elgin Marbles. This worthy has suggested that posters be placed on the Acropolis before the Parthenon declaring that the frieze atop the temple was stolen by "the barbarian hand of Thomas Elgin."

Americans are involved in this tizzy. Mrs. John F. Kennedy, our own Jackie, while vacationing in Greece, said "I would like to see them back."

This is choosing sides in a complex problem of morals (and the legal niceties of possession) and it is likely that the more thought devoted to the problem the more the inclination to side with the British, who own this precious collection of temple decorations and who are disinclined to pack them up and send them back to Athens.

The show stopper for the quick-to-act is the almost certainty that if Lord Elgin had not hauled off the metopes and pediments from Greece to London, they would not today be in the rather well preserved condition in which they are provoking an argument that will go on for centuries, no matter what the outcome.

wrecked. Enter Thomas Bruce, seventh Earl of Elgin, who was having Thomas Harrison build him Broom Hall in Fifehire. When the Earl of Elgin in 1799 was appointed ambassador at Constantinople, Harrison, who had studied in Rome and who was an Athens buff, suggested to him the possibility of obtaining some casts and drawings of the remains of ancient sculpture at Athens for his new mansion at Broom Hall.

Elgin thought the British government might finance a careful recording of the monuments that remained in Athens from the Age of Pericles but the government was overburdened with the cost of war (Napoleon was loose) and Elgin decided to undertake the work at his own expense.

The Turks charging for even a look at anything in Athens, but from obtaining first a firman (permit) for making of casts, Elgin's men were finally given permission for "taking away any figure of stone." Down came a metope from the Parthenon. Elgin employed between 300 and 400 men for a year removing sculptures.

Lord Elgin was recalled to London in 1803. He stopped at Athens to see completion of the work and inspected 200 chests full of marbles ready for transportation. Journeying on toward England, Elgin was taken prisoner in Paris in 1805 and confined at Paris for two years.

Most of the marbles reached England in various ships but in the absence of their imprisoned owner and his family the chests remained unclaimed in English harbors. About a dozen large chests were shipped aboard the brig Mentor which sank near the island of Cerigo. Eventually divers recovered the precious marbles and they were sent to England. But Turkey had declared war on England and the marbles in magazines in Athens were taken to Piraeus under threat of shipment to France. England ruled the seas, so they didn't move. In 1812 the last 80 chest of marbles were sent off to England.

"Marble Stealer"

There the artistic worth of the marbles was bitterly attacked in Parliament and Elgin was pilloried as a "marble dealer" and a "marble stealer." Lord Byron belittled him in Childe Harold. Elgin had met financial reverses and was obliged to offer the sculptures for sale to the British Government. Although his bare costs in acquiring the marbles had been £51,000 and the interest he paid on the capital was £23,000 and Canova valued them at £100,000, the British Government paid £35,000 ($175,000) for them in 1816 and put them in the British Museum.

Scholars hailed the worth of the marbles from the first. By the end of World War I people from around the world were going to the museum to see them and the campaigns to have them returned to Greece began, intensified, ebbed and were renewed.

Before World War II bombing got heavy the marbles were stashed in a subway station. In 1941 Britain was urged to thank Greece for her war effort with return of the marbles at war's end. The demands were repeated in 1950 and 1959.

British Position

The reasoning advanced for the return is always the same. The Parthenon is an architectural masterpiece of Western civilization. The marbles which were part of it should be back beside it. No one proposes that they be restored to the building as a frieze because what has remained on the building since Lord Elgin's project has deteriorated seriously.

The British suggest:

1. The marbles are of great value to all students of western civilization and should be kept in accessible London.
2. If the British Museum gave them back it would be morally bound to return its Egyptian and Chinese treasures, etc.
3. If the Greeks are only to transfer them from a British to a Greek museum, what has been accomplished?
4. Museums couldn't exist if all their possessions were returned.

State Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bendix Aviation of Detroit is one of 11 firms bidding for the contract to design two eractable satellites, which will probably open up like umbrellas in space to expose their surface. The space agency announced plans to launch the satellites, along with two others, in an effort to assess the hazards of punctures to orbiting spacecraft.

DETROIT (AP)—Stockholders of Cunningham Drug Stores were told at the annual meeting Monday that company profits should begin improving within six months. Company directors postponed action until Feb. 28 on the quarterly dividend, explaining that earnings figures for the December quarter will not be available until the February due to adjustments in the method of warehouse inventory accounting. The drug store chain has reportedly gone through one of the worst years in its history.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has signed a proclamation setting Feb. 9 as Children's Dental Health Week in Michigan. The period is set aside to help parents and children to become aware of the need for dental care as a part of maintaining health, he said.

LANSING (AP)—Michigan had 150,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for the market as of the first of the year, reports the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service. This was nine per cent higher than the 138,000 on feed last year at the same time and 30 per cent more than the five-year average.

LANSING (AP)—The "walk-don't walk" signals used by the State Highway Department are time to give pedestrians ample time to cross the street even if they leave the curb just before the signals change, the department said today. About 450 signals have been placed in cities throughout the state. Allowance is made for more time at spots where children or many old people cross the street, the department said.

LANSING (AP)—Michigan paid $168 million for highway construction work during 1962, some $52 million less than the record $210 million in 1961, the State Highway Department says. The total represents the amount of money paid to contractors for work completed.

Job Of MC Dates Back To Stone Age

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Confirming the suspicions of many, the laudatory introduction of an after-dinner speaker—or any speaker, for that matter—is a carry-over from the stone age, says a University of Michigan professor.

"When the chief of one tribe came for a visit to another, it seemed wise to ascribe supernatural powers to the visitor in order to compensate for his more obvious shortcomings and bedraggled appearance," said Ned A. Flanders, associate professor of education and research consultant.

Flanders, who often has been introduced himself, said, "one way to look at introductions is to assume that the more elaborate, the more worried everyone must be about the outcome."

In Memoriam

Newberry

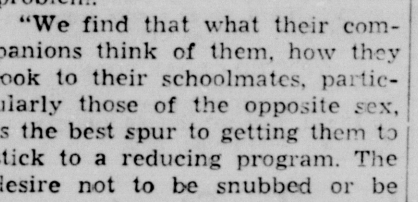

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Ellen Newberry, who passed away one year ago January 20, 1962.

Do not ask us if we miss her. For there's such a vacant place. For we think we hear her footsteps. Or see her smiling face. For she left us broken hearted. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they so little know the sorrow That is in our heart concealed.

Taking into consideration the medical report, the families way of living and the number of pounds the overweight boy or girl should lose, the doctor sets the calorie requirements and the rate of weight loss advisable. The nutritionist then plans the diet in terms of everyday foods, explaining it to the child and the mother. Dr. Christakis adds:

At night the rotunda portion of the pavilion will become a waterfall of light. Each of the eight-foot-deep glittering pylons will be illuminated with incandescent lights.

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Leon Wielenga, 20, and his brother Raleigh, 13, of Charlevoix, were killed Monday night when their car ran into the rear of a semitrailer truck on US-31 just north of here. A sister, Myra, suffered a fractured jaw and minor injuries. Charlevoix County sheriff's officers said the truck had slowed down to make a turn into a bulk plant, and the Wielenga car apparently was unable to stop on the slippery pavement.
